

Petition to Commissioner Mike Duheme, Royal Canadian Mounted Poilice

We, the undersigned citizens of Canada, are writing to you with great concern regarding the deaths of babies born alive after failed abortions in our country. We believe it is imperative for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) to launch a thorough investigation into these apparent incidents of infant homicide to ensure justice is served and the legal rights of these innocent lives are respected.

Regrettably, reliable data from Statistics Canada and the Canadian Institute for Health Information indicate that over the past 23 years, more than 1,500 babies have been born alive after botched abortions and seemingly left to die, without medical treatment, in regulated Canadian medical facilities.

These babies are considered "human beings" according to section 223(1) of the Criminal Code and are entitled to legal rights, including the right to life, liberty, and security of the person guaranteed by the Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

It is distressing that the details surrounding the deaths of these born-alive babies remain unknown. We urge the RCMP to investigate these suspicious deaths and uncover the truth. The authority to conduct this investigation lies with the RCMP, and it is crucial that this matter be addressed promptly. Canadians deserve answers regarding what is happening to these vulnerable lives, and justice demands that those responsible for any crimes be held accountable for their actions.

We implore the RCMP to set aside any ideological biases and prioritize the pursuit of justice in this matter. It is our collective responsibility to ensure that the rights and lives of these vulnerable infants are safeguarded.
